Volume 13 No. 26 Federal Center Bldg.-Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 July 2, 1965

WINTER WHEAT HIGHER -- SOYBEANS LOWER

Winter wheat prices advanced during the week ended July 1 while spring wheat held about unchanged. Soybeans and flaxseed prices declined while feed grains closed mostly at last week's level. Grain sorghum prices at Ft. Worth and soft white wheat in the Pacific Northwest dropped sharply to a new-crop basis.

Winter wheat advanced 2-4¢ per bushel in fairly active trading. Export demand remained good while domestic interest centered mainly on quality wheat. Combining made fairly good progress in Kansas but was only 36 percent complete as against 69 percent the same week a year ago. Offerings of new-crop soft red winter were light. Spring wheat was unchanged to slightly higher with demand about in line with the light offerings. Durum wheat held steady in dull trading. White wheat dropped 8¢ per bushel in the Pacific Northwest as trading shifted to a new-crop basis. Limited trading in old-crop wheat at last week's level was reported. Rye declined 1¢ per bushel with flour business at a slow pace.

Corn prices showed a mixed trend with slight gains at Omaha and Kansas City offset by lower prices at Minneapolis and Chicago. Weakness stemmed in part from reports of favorable progress of the new crop and slow domestic demand. Oats were unchanged to 2¢ lower in limited trading. Quality of the new crop appears good. Barley held steady at Minneapolis. Grain sorghum market was quiet at Kansas City with prices unchanged but dropped 8-11¢ per cwt. at Ft. Worth in an adjustment to new-crop values.

Soybean prices declined 2-3¢ per bushel at Chicago and Illinois Points but closed 8¢ lower at Minneapolis. Weakness stemmed in part from increased offerings due to the recent rise in prices and generally favorable conditions for the new crop. Flaxseed declined 2¢ at Minneapolis in a very slow market.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

WHEAT HIGHER -- SOYBEANS LOWER

Wheat prices advanced during the week ended July 8 while soybeans dropped sharply. Feed grains weakened with continued favorable growing weather for the 1965 crop.

Winter wheat generally advanced 2-3¢ per bushel for the ordinary hard winter and for the soft red winter varieties. High protein hard winter gained as much as 8¢ for top qualities. Harvesting of hard winter in Kansas and Nebraska and in the soft winter wheat areas made only moderate progress with some unfavorable weather. Offerings were light and demand from both domestic and export interests were good. Spring wheat gained 4¢ reflecting a good export demand and continued buying by domestic mills. Buyers were particularly interested in high protein wheat. Durum held steady in light trading. Trading in white wheat in the Pacific Northwest was mostly on a new-crop basis with general harvesting 10 days to 2 weeks away. Prices were mostly unchanged. The rye market continued dull with very little interest and prices remained at last week's level.

Corn prices generally declined 2-3¢ per bushel reflecting favorable reports of good progress of the 1965 crop. Demand, particularly from exporters, continued good. Oats declined 1-2¢ partly in sympathy with corn. Receipts were light and offerings not burdensome. Trading in barley was slow at Minneapolis with little change in prices but was active at Portland with good export interest. Grain sorghum prices declined 1-5¢ per cwt. as harvest made rapid progress in South Texas and the crop prospects in other areas looked good.

Soybeans declined 10-11¢ per bushel as the new crop made favorable growth in the principal areas of production. Slightly lower oil and meal prices were contributing factors to the weak market. Flaxseed was unchanged in a very slow market at Minneapolis.

EXPORTS OF WHEAT AND FLOUR, EXCLUDING BULGUR AND OTHER WHEAT PRODUCTS ... for the crop year ended June 30 totaled around 720 million bushels on the basis of Census data for 11 months and inspections for export for June. This is sharply below the record of about 860 million bushels exported in 1963-64 when large quantities were shipped to European countries, including the Soviet Union, due to the drought of 1963. However, exports last season were the second largest of record and compare with 718 million in 1961-62. Preliminary tabulations of inspections for export indicate smaller exports of all the classes. Exports of wheat by classes last season in million bushels with comparable figures for 1963-64 in parentheses were as follows: Hard Red Spring 20.3 (46.3); Durum 7.7 (27.9); Hard Red Winter 439.3 (473.0); Soft Red Winter 67.5 (72.6); White 106.3 (128.1); Mixed 1.8 (3.2). (Details of wheat inspections by program, class and country of destination as well as other data will be published July 16).

FEED GRAIN EXPORTS ... during the year ending June 30 totaled a record 17.6 million metric tons on the basis of Census data for 11 months and inspections for June. These do not include feed grain products. This is an increase of 13 percent or 2 million tons above 1963-64. Corn exports totaled 520 million bushels and grain sorghum 120 million -- both sharply above the previous year. Barley exports at less than 60 million bushels were down from 1963-64.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

SPRING WHEAT HIGHER - OTHER GRAINS LITTLE CHANGED

Spring wheat prices closed moderately higher for the week ended July 15. Other grains finished on a mixed note with prices generally no more than a cent or two higher or lower.

Firmness in hard and soft red winter wheat markets reflected fairly active mill and export demand, particularly for good milling qualities, and growing concern over high-moisture offerings. Harvest progress, which already lags behind 1964's pace, was again interrupted by rains in some areas. Spring and durum wheat advanced 4¢ per bushel at Minneapolis. "Free" supplies of spring wheat appeared to be in strong hands and last week's pick-up in flour sales created additional mill demand this week. Durum found demand quite strong, especially from exporters. White wheat prices softened in quiet trading in the Pacific Northwest. Rye held firm on light offerings.

Corn prices finished on the weak side. Demand remained good for light offerings, but favorable weather and crop prospects had a weakening influence. Oats followed corn onto weaker price ground in quiet trading. Barley prices also weakened, with lower quality intermediate kinds off as much as 6¢ at Minneapolis. Sorghum prices edged up a cent or two behind good demand.

Soybeans were off 1-2¢ per bushel, influenced mainly by favorable crop news and a more cautious demand. Flaxseed met little buying interest and was unchanged in Minneapolis.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

GRAIN MARKETS SHOW MIXED TREND

Cash grain markets closed on an irregular note for the week ended July 22. Gains and losses appeared almost throughout the list, with some price changes rather sharp.

Both hard and soft red winter wheat closed mostly 2-3¢ per bushel higher. Harvesting continued at a good pace, but producers showed a stronger holding tendency. Domestic and export demand remained good, particularly mill demand for higher milling qualities. High-moisture receipts were still somewhat of a problem. Spring wheat dropped 5-7¢ at Minneapolis, reflecting a drastic reduction in the premium basis. Demand continued good, but buyers lowered their ideas of prices. Flour business slowed, too. Durum wheat, however, held steady behind fairly active booking of semolina and active export interest. White wheat held firm with active export interest and slow selling by farmers in the Pacific Northwest. Rye apparently looked quite attractive to traders. Flour business improved and mills took small offerings of "free" rye at 4¢ higher prices.

Corn prices fluctuated within a narrow range and finished no more than a cent or two higher or lower. Crop prospects remained favorable. Demand continued good, and offerings were generally adequate. Oats firmed up a little but nearness of the new crop had a tempering effect on demand. Barley lost 4-6¢ at Minneapolis on continued reports of excellent growing conditions, but prices held firm elsewhere. Grain sorghum markets were not much changed as traders awaited impending movement of the new crop.

Soybeans lost 4-5¢ per bushel around a very weak July futures close at Chicago. Prices finished 3¢ higher at Minneapolis, however, as uneasiness in the Viet-Nam situation had a supporting influence in late trading and early losses were more than recovered. Crushings of some 38 million bushels of soybeans in June and nearly 369 million bushels so far this season were about in line with trade expectations. Crop prospects remained bright. Flaxseed held steady in Minneapolis.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

Based on weekly reports of inspections for export by licensed grain inspectors and does not include rail and truck movement to Canada or Mexico.

1/ Transshipments of U. S. wheat from Canadian ports have been subtracted from the quantity shipped to Canada in order to show the final country of destination for all U. S. wheat exported from the United States as well as from Canadian ports. If the shipments to Canada are larger than transshipments of U. S. wheat from Canada, the difference is added to the total inspections for export for the period. If shipments are smaller than transshipments, the difference (which indicates a reduction in U. S. wheat stocks in Canada) is subtracted from total inspections for export.

2/ Includes Title II and Title III.

Based on weekly reports of inspections for export by licensed grain inspectors and does not include rail or truck movement to Canada or Mexico. In some cases, the ultimate destination of the grain exported is not shown on the inspection reports. Therefore, the quantity for each country may vary from official Census data which are based on custom declarations.

QUARTERLY SUMMARY AND STATISTICS

GRAIN DIVISION CONSUMER AND MARKETING SERVICE
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Volume 8 No. 3 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 July 27, 1965

Grain prices generally turned downward during the May-July period as trading moved toward a new-crop basis. Spring wheat was an exception and chalked up moderate gains. Despite the downturn, most grain prices were well above a year earlier, especially soybean prices. Carryover stocks of wheat were 9 percent below last year. Holdings of the four feed grains stood at 79 million tons -- 17 percent below the previous year. Exports of most grains continued at high levels.

WHEAT ... prices lost ground during May and June, reflecting the traditional transition to a new-crop basis. However, the markets turned upward and some of the early loss was regained in July as wet weather delayed harvesting and light offerings found good domestic and export demand. Prices of both hard winter and soft red wheat at the end of the third week of July were generally not too much different from April or a year earlier. Spring wheat, on the other hand, closed moderately higher as "free" supplies were held tightly and harvesting will not move into full swing until August. White wheat was down more than other classes in relation to April and a year ago. Carryover stocks of wheat on July 1 totaled 819 million bushels -- the smallest for that date in 12 years. The Commodity Credit Corporation owned nearly 690 million bushels of the total carryover. Exports of wheat and flour during 1964-65 amounted to 718 million bushels, 130 million less than the previous season's record. Milling of 577 million bushels of wheat for flour ran about 51 million behind 1963-64's pace. Domestic supplies of wheat for the 1965-66 season, based on July 1 conditions, are estimated at 2.2 billion bushels -- about 19 million less than last season.

RYE ... lost 5¢ per bushel during the past quarter and finished 11¢ under a year ago at Minneapolis. Stocks of 12.5 million bushels in all positions July 1 more than doubled the previous season's small carryover and offset a 7 percent decrease in this year's production. Domestic disappearance of almost 29 million bushels of rye in 1964-65 was down nearly 3 million from the previous season due mainly to the sharp drop in exports. Alcohol and milling usage was up slightly. With the larger carryover, domestic supplies of rye for 1965-66 are expected to total around 43.5 million bushels -- nearly 4.7 million more than a year earlier.

CORN ... prices softened during May-July as prospects for a larger crop this year tempered the strengthening influence of good domestic and export demand. At the end of the third week of July, however, prices at principal markets remained 7-10¢ per bushel above a year earlier. Stocks of 1.9 billion bushels in all positions on July 1 were 19 percent smaller than a year ago. CCC owned nearly 547 million bushels. Corn production in 1965-66 is forecast at 3.9 billion bushels -- 10 percent more than last year. October 1964-June 1965 disappearance totaled 3.1 billion bushels, about 83 million more than a year earlier. Exports reached a record 407 million bushels, and wet millings stood at an all-time high of 148 million bushels. With smaller animal numbers, the 14.6 bushels of corn fed in October-June were up one-half bushel per animal unit.

OATS ... lost several cents during the past quarter but at the end of the third week in July prices still remained moderately above a year earlier. Carryover stocks of 283 million bushels were down 32 million from a year ago. With production -- estimated at 888 million bushels -- only 1 percent larger this season, domestic supplies of oats for 1965-66 total about 26 million less than the previous season. Oats disappearance in 1964-65 was about 917 million bushels -- the least since 1934-35.

BARLEY ... like most other feed grains, weakened during May-July but still sold well above a year earlier. Carryover stocks in all positions July 1 totaled 102 million bushels, 23 percent less than a year ago. With production expected to be down 10 percent this year, domestic supplies of barley for 1965-66 should be around 467 million bushels. Disappearance of almost 445 million bushels of barley last season increased nearly 17 million bushels. Industrial usage -- mainly beer and alcohol -- was at the highest level since 1950-51, while exports declined around 9 million bushels.

GRAIN SORGHUM ... prices weakened as a rule during the past three months but were firm or a little above a year ago in July. Stocks of 368 million cwt. in all positions July 1 were 8 percent smaller than a year earlier. Of these, 332 million cwt. were owned by CCC. Disappearance of 270 million cwt. during the first 9 months of 1964-65 was about 25 million less than the previous 9-month period. Exports of 52 million cwt. were up 8.2 million for the same period.

SOYBEAN ... prices dropped 13-16¢ per bushel during May, June, and July. Even so, prices at the end of the third week of July ranged from 32-43¢ above a year earlier. Stocks of 131.3 million bushels in all positions on July 1 were nearly 25 percent less than the record set a year earlier. Soybean crushings, October 1964-June 1965, totaled almost 369 million bushels -- about 40 million more than the same 9 months a year ago. Exports of nearly 174 million bushels ran some 20 million bushels ahead of the previous year's pace.

FLAXSEED ... declined slightly during the past three months but remained about 11¢ per bushel above July a year ago at Minneapolis. Stocks of some 10.8 million bushels stored in all positions on July 1 were down 2.3 million from the previous year. However, with flaxseed production expected to be 10 percent larger this year, the domestic supply of flaxseed for 1965-66 should be nearly 37.8 million bushels, or about the same as a year earlier. Flaxseed disappearance last season was up slightly, reflecting a sharp rise in exports and a moderate gain in crushings.

NOTE: Data on stocks, production and seed usage from Crop Reporting Board; imports, exports, quantity milled or processed from Census Bureau; and alcohol usage from Internal Revenue Service. Production and stocks for 1964 are preliminary. April-June 1965 data are partly estimated. Since the statistics are preliminary and subject to revision and represent data reported by several independent sources, no attempt is made to force a balance between supply and reported disappearance.

GRAIN MARKETS MIXED

Cash grain markets closed with a mixed price trend for the week ending July 29. Spring wheat dropped sharply and oilseeds showed a lower tendency. Other grains were either unchanged or generally no more than a couple of cents higher or lower.

Hard winter wheat finished about on a par with the previous week's close. Mill and export demand continued good, but farmers still were reluctant to sell. Easines in soft winter wheat reflected more selective buying interest and concern over storin high-moisture offerings. Spring wheat prices registered another loss and closed 4-6¢ per bushel lower in a further adjustment to a new-crop basis. High protein wheat was in good demand. Some new-crop wheat is now available. Durum markets closed about 2¢ lower. Offerings were a little heavy for the immediate demand. White wheat advanced 3¢ per bushel in the Pacific Northwest. Strength was attributed to early purchase agreements, short positions for near-by shipments, and late harvest. Rye closed 2¢ lower as harvest was in full swing and supplies increased.

Corn markets were not much changed in either direction. Spot offerings met good demand from domestic buyers as well as exporters. Oats held steady at most markets but declined 2-3¢ per bushel under pressure from the new crop in Minneapolis. Barley prices finished unchanged to 6¢ lower in Minneapolis in a further adjustment to a new-crop basis. West Coast barley markets, however, held firm. Grain sorghum declined 1-2¢ per bushel in Texas as harvest in the southern area is now in full progress. Kansas City prices went up 2¢ per bushel behind a strong demand for scarce supplies.

Soybean prices fluctuated throughout the period and finished 2-4¢ per bushel lower. Early strength, influenced by war tensions in the Far East, was offset later in the week by continued favorable reports of crop progress. Demand improved at the lower price levels. Flaxseed lost a couple of cents.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

WINTER WHEAT HIGHER - CORN LOWER

Cash grain markets featured a sharp price advance in winter wheat for the week ending August 5. Corn prices were lower, while other grains were mostly unchanged or lower.

Winter wheat markets advanced 2-4¢ per bushel reflecting a continued good export and mill demand. Even at prices well above the support level, farm selling remained tight. Some trade reports of smaller European supplies strengthened quotations for soft winter wheat. Spring wheat markets were mixed with top quality wheat 2¢ higher while lower end of the range declined 2¢ per bushel. Demand from diversion points remained strong, while flour buyers were hesitant to bid. Durum closed 3-4¢ per bushel lower. Exporters remained in the market but mill demand was less aggressive with only occasional semolina sales. White wheat closed about a penny higher in the Pacific Northwest behind slow country sales and a good export demand. Rye held about steady as expanded flour sales helped maintain the cash price level despite heavier receipts.

Cash corn markets eased off 1-4¢ per bushel. Increased receipts and prospects of a good crop were weakening factors in the market. Demand for oats was broad enough to make the market firm or slightly higher. Harvest is progressing well and quality seems to be good. Barley prices advanced at Minneapolis reflecting the excellent quality of light arrivals. With most sales of the better quality, prices were mostly 4¢ higher. Grain sorghum closed unchanged to 3¢ lower reflecting advancement of harvest and an easier demand.

Soybean prices moved within a narrow range and were a penny or two lower than a week ago. Spot market activity was cautious. Although year-end supplies look to be somewhat lower, encouraging crop reports tended to ease futures values. Flaxseed market was unchanged. Buying interest was lacking and receipts declined at Minneapolis.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

WHEAT PRICES ADVANCE - CORN AND SOYBEANS LOWER

Cash grain markets showed a mixed trend during the week ended August 12. Wheat prices advanced sharply with good export demand while corn and soybeans declined as prospects for record crops were forecast. Other grains showed smaller changes from a week ago.

Winter wheat advanced 4¢ per bushel at most markets reflecting the good export demand. Sales of 5 million tons of wheat and flour by Canada to Russia and a large sale by Argentina plus reports of weather reverses in Europe provided strength. Mill demand was good while farm selling remained light. Spring wheat gained 4¢ despite reports of general harvest activity in North Dakota. Export interest provided the main strength while domestic demand readily absorbed the light receipts. Durum was up 2¢ due to the broader demand. White wheat declined 1¢ while hard winter went up 1-2¢ per bushel in the Pacific Northwest with harvest conditions normal. Rye gained a penny due in part to the heavy flour sales.

Corn dropped 2-3¢ per bushel due largely to favorable prospects for a record crop. Offerings increased somewhat but export sales held up quite well. Oats declined 1-2¢ with harvest underway in the heavy producing areas. Barley held steady with a fairly good demand for moderate offerings. Grain sorghum prices were 1-2¢ per cwt. lower with a slow demand for light receipts.

Soybeans dropped 10-16¢ per bushel as prospects indicated a crop of 864 million bushels -- 23 percent more than last year. Current supplies are limited but demand was slow as ample supplies by harvest time are expected. Soybean meal prices were down while oil was about steady. Flaxseed was down 2¢ partly in sympathy with soybeans and also because of the nearness of new-crop harvest.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

Based on weekly reports of inspections for export by licensed grain inspectors and does not include rail or truck movement to Canada or Mexico. In some cases, the ultimate destination of the grain exported is not shown on the inspection reports. Therefore, the quantity for each country may vary from official Census data which are based on custom declarations.

1/ July 1-30, 1965 for wheat, rye, oats, barley, grain sorghum, and flaxseed: October 1, 1964-July 30, 1965 for corn and soybeans.
2/ Less than 1,000 bushels.

NOTE: The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reported total value, as of May 31, 1965, of feed grain certificates issued for crop-years 1963, 1964, and 1965 was $2,407,198,810*. Sales against the certificate pools, by crop year, were: 1963 $119,263,666; 1964 $344,830,668; and to date in 1965 $2,533,363. These sales left a combined feed grain certificate value of $1,940,571,113 as of July 30, 1965.

* The 1962 Feed Grain Certificate issue amounted to approximately $752 million and is now considered completely liquidated.

WEEKLY SUMMARY AND STATISTICS

GRAIN DIVISION
CONSUMER AND MARKETING SERVICE
UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Volume 13 No. 33 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 August 20, 1965

SPRING WHEAT SHARPLY LOWER

Cash grain markets were featured by the sharp drop in spring wheat, and a more modest drop in winter wheat, rye and grain sorghum for the week ended August 19. Other grains showed only minor changes from a week ago.

Winter wheat declined 1-3¢ per bushel reflecting in part a reaction from last week's sharp advance. Export demand continued moderate but domestic interest was slow and trading was light. Despite last week's advance only limited country selling was reported. Spring wheat dropped 5-7¢ in partial adjustment to a new-crop basis. Harvest expanded in North Dakota and receipts at Minneapolis increased sharply. Demand was good due in part to large flour sales. Durum wheat held steady. White wheat showed little change in the Pacific Northwest with moderate export business offsetting some increased offerings. Rye dropped 4¢ per bushel reflecting pressure of harvest movement and little interest.

Corn was irregular as the new crop generally made good progress. Prices were mostly unchanged to a penny higher or lower depending on local supply conditions. Export interest continued good. White corn was down sharply at Kansas City. Oats held steady with somewhat improved demand for increased offerings. Barley declined 2¢ per bushel at Minneapolis and 1¢ at Portland. Harvesting was active in North Dakota with about half completed. Grain sorghum declined 5¢ per cwt. as harvesting moved into the South Plains area of Texas.

Soybean prices were mostly unchanged during the week except at Chicago where an active futures demand pushed prices up around 5¢ per bushel. The new crop generally made good progress with slightly warmer than normal temperatures. Soybean meal prices declined during the week while oil prices strengthened. Flaxseed remained unchanged at Minneapolis with a limited interest.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

WEEKLY SUMMARY AND STATISTICS

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Volume 13 No. 34 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 August 27, 1965

OILSEEDS SHARPLY LOWER

Soybean and flaxseed prices turned sharply lower during the week ended August 26. Other grains closed unchanged to slightly higher.

Most winter wheat markets were unchanged to two cents higher. At Fort Worth prices edged downward about a penny. Demand for spot offerings were fairly aggressive from both millers and exporters. Spring wheat, despite heavy receipts, advanced 2-3¢ per bushel in Minneapolis. Harvest in North Dakota was nearing completion while good progress is being made in Montana. Durum was unchanged for the higher quality while the low side of the premium scale went down 2 cents. Semolina sales picked up somewhat but processors were hesitant to bid before the peak of the new crop. White wheat went up a penny in the Pacific Northwest reflecting good export interest. Rye prices advanced 1¢ per bushel in Minneapolis.

Cash corn markets showed general strength and price advances were noted at most markets. Receipts were reported somewhat lower and spot offerings were readily taken. Export inquiries were good. Oats were unchanged to a penny lower. Barley prices held at the same level as a week ago. Harvest of the new crop is nearing completion and demand held up fairly well. Grain sorghum went down 3-4¢ per cwt. in Fort Worth but gained about 3¢ in Kansas City. The rapid progress of harvest in Texas was the weakening factor in that area.

Soybeans turned sharply downward during the week and closed 4-9¢ per bushel lower. A few receipts of new-crop beans and the nearness of a predicted record crop were the weakening factors. Terminal and export demand was fairly aggressive especially for forward bookings. Flaxseed declined 4¢ per bushel in Minneapolis.

1/ The export payment rate for wheat on August 26, was 44¢ per bushel for spring wheat from Duluth, 44¢ for soft red winter from Baltimore, 48¢ for hard winter from the Gulf, and 26¢ for white wheat from the West Coast. To compute indicated net price to foreign buyer, add 30¢ (export certificate) to above price and subtract appropriate export payment rate.
2/ No. 3 barley at Baltimore, and No. 2 barley in the Pacific Northwest; No. 2 yellow grain sorghum at Houston or Galveston.

Cash grain closing prices, f.o.b. track, compared with loan rates at principal terminals
All prices rounded to nearest cent per bushel except grain sorghum per cwt.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

GRAIN MARKETS STRONGER

Grain markets showed a generally stronger trend during the week ended September 2. Grain sorghum ruled the exception and closed sharply lower.

Winter wheat markets advanced 2-3¢ per bushel. Export demand was reported good with most interest in to-arrive shipments. Most of the spot sales went to terminal elevator operators as millers remained on the sidelines. Farm sellings remained slow despite the higher current market values in relation to the loan rate. Spring wheat continued on the upswing and closed 1-2¢ per bushel higher reflecting lighter than expected receipts. Most shipments were in the higher protein brackets. Durum was about unchanged from a week ago despite a good demand from both millers and exporters. White wheat held firm in the Pacific Northwest. Elevator space was tight and most bids were on a to-arrive basis. Rye went up about a penny with strength stimulated from higher wheat prices.

Cash corn markets were generally stronger with price advances of 5¢ per bushel at Chicago and 2¢ at most other points. Strong export demand and reports of cooler weather causing later maturity were strengthening factors in the market. Some processors and elevators continued to seek No. 1 corn for blending purposes. Oat prices, principally based on the stronger corn market, advanced 2-3¢ per bushel. Barley held about steady in rather slow trading. Grain sorghum turned sharply lower during the week and dropped 3-12¢ per cwt. reflecting an adjustment to new-crop basis. Offerings were fairly large and buyers were active at the lower price levels.

Soybeans recovered from the recent price losses and closed 7-8¢ per bushel higher. Strength reflected the higher oil and meal prices. Cooler weather over much of the country has retarded growth and maturity of the crop. Cash demand was considered ample for current receipts. Flaxseed ruled unchanged from last week in a dull market.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

olume 13 No. 36 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 September 10, 1965

GRAIN MARKETS MOSTLY WEAKER

Cash grain markets closed on a generally weaker trend for the holiday-shortened week ending September 8. The tense international situation softened the wheat market while more favorable maturing weather affected the prices of corn and soybeans.

Winter wheat closed 1-2¢ per bushel lower. Fighting between India and Pakistan, recipients of about 40 percent of U.S. total wheat exports, was a weakening factor in the market. Demand from millers for high protein hard winter wheat remained good but export interest was slow. Spring wheat was unchanged to a penny lower reflecting a lesser export demand. Protein premiums for 16 and 17 percent were up 1-3¢ with demand good. Producers were not selling freely and rains slowed harvest in North Dakota. Durum sold well and went up 3-5¢ per bushel. Soft white wheat eased off about a penny as liberal farm selling and the India-Pakistan situation affected the market in the Pacific Northwest. Rye closed about a penny lower at Minneapolis in slow trading.

Corn markets showed a weaker trend during the week and closed 1-6¢ per bushel lower. Demand for spot offerings was good, however, most of the bidders were anxiously waiting to see the upcoming crop reports. Oats held steady as demand from feed mixers and elevators went unsatisfied with limited offerings. Barley markets were unchanged to 2¢ lower. Demand was reported as good but premium adjustments at some levels lowered the values. Grain sorghum closed unchanged in Ft. Worth but went down 4¢ in Kansas City. Harvest is underway in the Southern part of Kansas.

Cash soybean markets fluctuated during the week and closed at about last week's level. Concern over short stocks was more than offset by reports of favorable maturing weather for the indicated record crop. Processors attempting to cover short supplies added strength to the market. Flaxseed markets held at the same price level of the previous week as harvest progressed well.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

SPRING WHEAT HIGHER - SOYBEANS LOWER

Cash grain markets showed a mixed trend during the week ended September 16. Wet weather and war news dominated the market. Spring wheat advanced sharply while most other grains showed little change. A shift to new-crop basis lowered prices of soybeans.

Winter wheat markets were dull during the week with light offerings and limited demand. Mill demand was slow while exporters showed little interest. Producer selling continued light. Spring wheat advanced 6-7¢ on reports of poor harvesting weather in North Dakota and smaller receipts at terminals. Durum wheat was unchanged with ample supplies more than offsetting reported damage to the crop. White wheat declined 2¢ per bushel early in the week reflecting good country selling but firmed up later in the week as offerings decreased. Rye markets were firm reflecting the advance in spring wheat and the smaller receipts.

Corn markets held firm as wet weather delayed marketing. This was offset by prospects of a record crop. Prices ranged unchanged to 1-2¢ higher. Offerings were light but both domestic and export interest was good, particularly for nearby supplies. Oats were on the weak side with prices mostly a penny lower. Barley markets were firm to a penny higher at Portland while malting barley sold 3-4¢ higher at Minneapolis. Grain sorghum prices were unchanged to 1¢ lower as light offerings generally met a good demand.

Soybeans dropped sharply at Chicago in an adjustment to a new-crop basis but the decline was more gradual at Minneapolis and Illinois points. Wet weather with below normal temperatures delayed maturity and harvest of the crop. Flaxseed declined 3¢ due in part to unfavorable harvesting weather in North Dakota and Canada.

NOTICE

Formats of the tables showing inspections of wheat for export by classes, programs, and country of destination (pages 6-9) have been changed from those used in previous issues of GRAIN MARKET NEWS. The redesigned tables now combine data showing the quantity of U.S. wheat inspected for export at Canadian ports with data showing export inspections at U.S. ports. U.S. wheat previously shipped from Lake Ports to Canada for transshipment now is included in the breakdown by class, program, and country of destination (pages 6 and 7) and by class and ports (page 9) as it is inspected for export from Canadian ports. This system provides more accurate information on U.S. wheat exports by programs and better indicates the final destination of U.S. wheat. A breakdown by class of U.S. wheat shipped from Lake Ports to Canada for transshipment is shown as a separate item (not included in the grand total) on page 7. Data for wheat in the table showing grain inspections for export by ports and areas (page 11) continues, however, to include U.S. wheat shipped from Lake Ports to Canada for transshipment.

PRICE SUPPORT ACTIVITIES THROUGH AUGUST ... showed that farmers put 79.0 million bushels of 1965-crop wheat under loan. This compares with 84.8 million bushels of 1964-crop wheat put under loan through the same month a year ago. Quantities of other 1965-crop grains put under loan through August also ran smaller than a year earlier. Of the 215 million bushels of 1964-crop corn put under loan farmers had repaid 116 million with nearly 82 million outstanding under loan.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

SOYBEANS AND WHEAT ADVANCE - OTHER GRAINS LITTLE CHANGED

Soybean prices registered spectacular gains during the week ended September 23. Wheat prices turned a little higher, but other cash grain markets showed minor or no change.

Winter wheat prices edged up 1-2¢ per bushel, influenced mainly by light offerings, wet weather in the spring wheat area and in Canada, and the cease-fire agreement between India and Pakistan. Trading was dull, with demand on the casual side. Spring wheat advanced 3¢ and durum 4¢ as receipts fell off and buyers became more concerned about how quality of unharvested wheat will be affected by the wet weather. White wheat finished 3¢ higher in the Pacific Northwest as demand picked up and farmers became more willing sellers with cash prices running 13¢ above effective support level. Rye advanced 6¢ on light offerings and the stronger wheat market.

Firmness in corn prices reflected good demand for light offerings and the delay in harvesting as a result of wet, cold weather. Oats were not much changed in a dull market. Barley firmed up slightly behind good demand for smaller receipts. Grain sorghum held firm.

Soybeans chalked up advances of 16-23¢ per bushel for the week in what was largely a weather market. With wet, cold weather further delaying harvesting of the new crop, buyers with urgent needs quickly absorbed available old-crop offerings almost without any regard to asking price. The scarcity of soybeans created almost fantastic advances in oil and meal markets, too, and added further impetus to the upswing in cash soybeans. Flaxseed held steady, supported by wet weather in producing areas.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

NOTICE

Beginning with this issue of GRAIN MARKET NEWS, soybean supply and distribution data and other soybean statistics will be published on a September 1-August 31 marketing year. This change has been made because of the recent trend toward harvesting, crushing, and exporting an increasing quantity of new-crop soybeans in September. The shift from the former October 1-September 30 marketing year to the new September 1-August 31 marketing year will provide a more accurate accounting of the utilization of old-crop soybeans prior to new-crop harvesting and a more accurate basis from which to calculate supply for the new year.

The statistical tables on the following pages have been adjusted to the new September 1-August 31 crop-year basis. They will replace the soybean supply and distribution table formerly published in the "Quarterly" GRAIN MARKET NEWS reports issued in October, January, April and July each year.

SOYBEAN PRICES DOWN - PRODUCTION AND DISAPPEARANCE UP

Soybean prices declined steadily during the final quarter of the September 1, 1964-August 31, 1965 marketing year. Although carryover stocks of 1963-crop soybeans and a record 1964 production provided the largest supply in history, all-time high crushings and exports resulted in a record utilization of U. S. soybeans during 1964-65. The estimated soybean supply for 1965-66 is expected to be a new all-time high of 896 million bushels.

Prices at principal markets declined steadily during the June-August quarter, finishing around 9-18¢ per bushel under the previous quarter's closing averages. Even so, they were still 15-19¢ above last year's closing levels. Soybean prices continued to weaken well into September before they reacted sharply upward when wet, cold weather delayed harvesting and it became apparent that old-crop supplies were short of urgent needs.

Disappearance of soybeans during the September 1964-August 1965 season totaled a record 738 million bushels -- 60 million bushels more than the previous season and about 36 million more than the former record in 1962-63. Almost 479 million bushels of soybeans were crushed for oil during the past season. This represents an increase of about 42 million bushels over the season before and exceeds the previous record by some 6 million bushels. Exports of soybeans soared to an all-time high of 210 million bushels -- 23 million above the previous year's old record. Seed usage of some 39 million bushels was about 3 million bushels greater than the year before.

Carryover of 1964-crop soybeans in all storage positions on September 1, 1965, totaled 29.6 million bushels. Comparisons with this date in earlier years are unavailable since this is the first time stocks have been reported on a September 1 basis. With the carryover and a forecast of a record 867-million-bushel 1965 soybean crop, supplies of soybeans for the 1965-66 marketing year total more than 896 million bushels -- a new high for the United States.

1/ Based on assumption that a bushel of soybeans yields 11.0 pounds of oil and 48.0 pounds of meal.

2/ Preliminary.

NOTE: This table is for statistical comparison only. It does not reflect actual operating margins since prices are simple averages and do not take into account location differentials or actual purchases and sales of soybeans, soybean oil or soybean meal.

CORN AND SOYBEANS DECLINE - SPRING WHEAT ADVANCES

Soybeans and corn declined during the week ended September 30 reflecting moderate to favorable weather over portions of the Midwest. Further deterioration of spring wheat advanced prices at Minneapolis. Other grains showed minor changes.

Winter wheat held unchanged to 1¢ higher due in part to a fair mill demand. Export trading was slow but a firm undertone was reported. Farm selling continued light. Spring wheat continued to climb as cold rainy weather caused heavy loss in harvesting the crop in North Dakota and Minnesota. Prices were 1-3¢ higher for northern spring wheat and 15¢ for durum. Reports indicate severe damage to the durum crop. White wheat gained 1¢ with improved export trading and limited country selling. Rye held steady in a slow market at Minneapolis.

Corn declined 2-4¢ reflecting in part improved maturing weather for the expected record crop. Terminal stocks were ample to meet the slow demand while new crop supplies were expected in the near future. Oats held steady in a quiet market while malting barley gained 2-4¢ during the week. Grain sorghum prices were unchanged to 1¢ lower with rapid harvesting in the high plains but on a slower scale in other areas. Offerings were moderate.

Soybean markets reacted sharply to the improved harvesting weather with prices at Chicago dropping 30-35¢ per bushel. Although the week ended in rain over much of the area enough beans were harvested to meet the most urgent needs. Most of the receipts were high in moisture. Flaxseed held steady, supported by wet weather in the producing areas.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Volume 13 No. 40 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 October 8, 1965

MOST GRAIN PRICES LOWER

Cash grain prices generally declined during the week ended October 7. Favorable weather over the Midwest enabled farmers to start harvesting corn and soybeans and to salvage spring wheat not yet harvested. Other grains were mostly on the weak side with prices unchanged to lower.

Winter wheat markets were slow with some improved marketing by subterminals needing space for the new harvest of corn and grain sorghum. Demand continued light both from domestic and export sources and prices were unchanged to 2¢ per bushel lower. Spring wheat reacted sharply to improved harvesting weather and somewhat larger receipts. Prices dropped 8-10¢ as demand was slow. Durum wheat was down 7-18¢ from last week. The wide range reflected bids for lower quality with high moisture or damage. White wheat was the exception in the downward trend with prices 3¢ above a week ago. Export demand was good and country selling increased. Rye declined 2¢ at Minneapolis in slow trading with no export interest reported.

Corn prices declined 2-4¢ as sunshine replaced cloudy and rainy weather and permitted maturing and some harvesting of the new record crop. Increased selling is expected due to lack of adequate storage. Receipts expanded with moisture content up to 30 percent. Oats held about unchanged but a weak undertone was reported. Barley held steady at Minneapolis but dropped 4¢ at Portland where export interest lagged. Grain sorghum prices dropped 6-7¢ per cwt. at Kansas City as new crop offerings increased but lost only 1¢ at Ft. Worth where demand was good.

Soybeans continued weak as favorable harvesting weather permitted marketing in sufficient volume to meet current needs including some export demand. High moisture and dirty soybeans were definite market factors as many terminal elevator dryers were operating 24 hours. Flaxseed was nominally unchanged at Minneapolis.

Grains - CCC dispositions	7

CCC CORN SALES OR DISPOSITIONS ... totaled 407 million bushels during the crop year ending September 30 according to the latest operating reports. This is more than double the 145 million total dispositions for the 1963-64 crop-year. However, dispositions last season were sharply below the record of 918 million in 1961-62 and the 724 million in 1962-63. Commodity Credit Corporation inventory of corn on October 1, 1965 totaled 514 million bushels - a reduction of 276 million from October 1, 1964. October 1 stocks this year are the smallest for that date since 1954. CCC inventory totaled a record 1,315 million bushels on October 1, 1961 -- around 800 million more than the current holdings. Of the total dispositions last season, 48 million were export sales with 34 million of this Credit sales. Domestic dispositions amounted to 359 million of which 43 million moved under the Livestock Feed Program. (Details, page 6).

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

GRAIN PRICES MOSTLY UNCHANGED TO LOWER

Cash grain markets continued weak with prices mostly unchanged to lower for the week ended October 14. The principal exception was spring wheat which regained part of the sharp drop of last week. Corn prices were lower while soybeans were mostly at last week's level.

Winter wheat prices were unchanged to a penny lower. Producer selling continued light while domestic demand remained slow. An expected increase in export business has failed to materialize. Seeding of the 1966 Kansas wheat crop is 80 percent complete as against 92 percent a year ago. Spring wheat advanced 2¢ during the week despite rather heavy marketing of the new crop which is now mostly harvested. Much of the wheat marketed graded tough or was otherwise of low quality. Durum declined 5¢ at the bottom of the range but top quality was unchanged. White wheat declined 2¢ in the Pacific Northwest despite the heaviest week of export business. Country selling was brisk but tapered off as prices declined. Rye dropped 2¢ at Minneapolis in a slow market with no apparent export interest.

Corn prices were mostly 1¢ lower reflecting the record crop which was estimated at 4,179 million bushels on the basis of October 1 conditions. Offerings from the new crop were light with farmers reported waiting field curing. Export demand was rated moderate. Oats were steady in light trading. Barley declined as much as 6¢ on the low end of the scale reflecting increased receipts of late harvested crop with high moisture. Demand for the better qualities was still good. Grain sorghum prices were unchanged to 2¢ per cwt. higher with a good demand for larger offerings.

Soybean prices showed little change during the week. Harvest is progressing slowly with not quite ideal conditions, but greatly improved over a week or two ago. Receipts, mainly by truck, were small and well absorbed. Flaxseed declined 5¢ per bushel at Minneapolis due to increased receipts. A crop of 34 million bushels for 1965 is indicated which is 10 million above last year.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

WHEAT MARKETS HIGHER - CORN LOWER

Cash grain markets were mostly higher for the week ending October 21. The general strength was attributed to rail car shortages and wet weather in many areas. Corn fluctuated with sharp price changes.

Winter wheat markets closed stronger with hard winter 1-2¢ higher and soft red winter 6¢ per bushel higher. Factors affecting the strength were small spot offerings, rail car shortages and light sales by producers and elevators. Immediate demand was lacking although export interest was reported. Seeding of the 1966 crop is nearing completion in the Midwest. Spring wheat market quotations moved upward a penny per bushel. Harvesting was nearing completion and receipts were somewhat lower than in previous weeks. Flour buyers remained on the sidelines with enough in store so that they could await developments. White wheat gained 1¢ per bushel in the Pacific Northwest reflecting a good demand for the available supplies. Rye markets received strength from strong wheat prices and harvest completion and closed 1¢ per bushel higher.

Cash corn markets fluctuated during the week and closed with prices ranging from 6¢ lower to 6¢ higher. Mounting harvest flow reduced the cash basis measurably in some markets but lack of transportation facilities added strength at others. Good export demand and need for nearby supplies maintained a strengthening factor even in the weaker markets. Oat prices held steady with demand adequate for scarce countryru receipts. Barley markets showed little change as receipts dropped off following near completion of harvest. Demand for top quality malting grades caused slight price upturns. Grain sorghum closed unchanged to a penny higher. Receipts were heavy but recent rains over the producing area held prices up.

Soybeans regained the losses during the early part of the week and closed mostly 1-2¢ per bushel higher. Movement to markets remained less than expected and stocks are not building up in terminal elevators. Exporters were taking a large portion of the offerings. Weather over the producing areas remained an important factor in the market. Flaxseed recovered the 5¢ loss suffered at the start of the harvest movement in Minneapolis.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

QUARTERLY SUMMARY AND STATISTICS

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Volume 8 No. 4 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 October 27, 1965

Grain prices generally declined during the July-October period with record crops of corn, grain sorghum and soybeans and above-average crops of wheat, rye, and flaxseed. Winter wheat prices advanced during the period reflecting in part the heavy exports. Wheat and barley prices, the first three weeks of October, averaged slightly above a year ago while the other grains were lower. Wheat stocks were 5 percent below last year while feed grain stocks were 13 percent smaller. Rye, oats and flaxseed stocks on October 1 were larger than a year ago.

WHEAT ... prices generally advanced 2-10¢ for the winter varieties but spring varieties were mostly lower. Soft red winter made the greatest gain due in part to the good demand for smaller supplies. Ordinary spring wheat prices declined 4¢ in the four-month period while soft white gained 8¢ in the Pacific Northwest. The spread between ordinary and 13 percent protein at Kansas City was 18¢ this season as against a 3-cent spread a year ago. At the third week of October, wheat prices ranged from 12-25¢ per bushel above the effective support level with soft red winter and spring wheat at the higher level in relation to support. Stocks of wheat in all positions, October 1, totaled 1.7 billion bushels -- 100 million less than a year earlier. Of these, 803 million were either owned by Commodity Credit Corporation or under loan. Farmers put 113 million bushels of 1965-crop wheat under price support through September 30 -- 9 million less than last year. July-September exports of wheat and flour totaled 207 million an increase of more than 25 million bushels over a year earlier. Wheat supplies in Canada for 1965-66 total 1,219 million bushels -- 160 million more than for 1964-65.

RYE ... prices during the first three weeks of October averaged 2¢ per bushel above July but 11¢ below October 1964. The lower prices reflect in part the larger supplies and smaller exports. Stocks of rye on October 1 totaled 35 million bushels compared with 30 million a year earlier. First quarter disappearance of a little over 10 million was 1 million more than in 1964 due mainly to heavier feeding. Exports totaled 0.7 million bushels. Canadian supplies of rye for 1965-66 of 25 million are well above recent years.

CORN ... prices declined an average of 10¢ per bushel in the July-October period reflecting in part prospects for a record crop. Prices in October were around a penny below a year earlier. The 1965 crop was forecast at 4,179 million bushels on October 1, 18 percent more than the 1964 crop. Carryover stocks of old corn on October 1 totaled 1,160 million, the smallest since 1955 and 24 percent below a year ago. Of the stocks this year, CCC either owned or had outstanding under loan 933 million -- 355 million less than a year earlier. Disappearance of 3.9 billion bushels last season was slightly above the previous year. Exports of 550 million last season were a record while wet milling totaled 201 million bushels, also a record. The quantity fed was 3.1 billion, a drop of 2 percent from the 1963-64 crop year. Corn fed per animal unit totaled 18.7 bushels last season compared with 18.6 in 1963-64 and 18.9 the 1958-62 average.

OATS ... prices declined slightly in the first four months of the season reflecting mainly the lower feed grain prices. Despite the decline, prices at the farm for July-September averaged 2¢ per bushel above the same months of 1964. Stocks of oats on October 1 totaled 974 million, an increase of 12 percent over last year. The increase is due mainly to the larger 1965 crop since disappearance was only slightly below a year earlier. July-September disappearance of 304 million was 20 million less than in 1964. Exports of 9 million were about equal to the average but sharply above last year. Canadian supplies of 551 million for 1965-66 are 15 million more than for 1964-65.

BARLEY ... prices at the farm averaged 8¢ per bushel above a year ago for the first quarter of the season. October prices for choice malting barley averaged 3¢ per bushel above a year ago while feeding barley generally averaged 9-10¢ above. The exception is California where prices in October were below last year. October 1 stocks of 399 million were 3 percent less than a year earlier. First quarter disappearance of 112 million was 18 million less than last season reflecting the sharp drop in feeding. Exports of 16 million compare with a little over 10 million a year earlier. Canadian barley supplies for 1965-66 total 309 million, well above last year but only slightly below 1963-64.

GRAIN SORGHUM ... prices declined around 22¢ per cwt. in the July-October period due mainly to the record crop, a fair amount of which was harvested before October 1. October prices averaged 18¢ below a year ago. Supplies for 1965-66 total 684 million cwt. as against 638 million for 1964-65. Carryover stocks of 317 million cwt. were 13 percent less than last year. Disappearance of 321 million cwt. in 1964-65 compares with 332 million in 1963-64. Exports of 83 million cwt. were the largest of record -- 24 million above last year.

SOYBEAN ... prices fluctuated sharply during August and September. Prices dropped to low levels with prospects for a record crop. However, delays in harvesting due to unfavorable weather resulted in short supplies. Chicago prices ranged from $2.57 on September 13 to $3.01 on September 22, and then dropped to $2.49 on September 28. Market prices the first three weeks of October averaged 25¢ below October 1964. (Carryover stocks of soybeans are now reported for September 1). Supplies for 1965-66, on the new basis, total a record 892 million as against 767 million on a comparable basis for 1964-65. (Supply and distribution table on the September basis is shown on page 11 of this report).

FLAXSEED ... prices at Minneapolis averaged 6¢ per bushel below a year ago the first quarter of the season and in October were 18¢ below last year. Stocks on October 1 of 34 million were 11 percent above a year earlier. First quarter crushings of 5.0 million were only slightly below last year while exports of 1.4 million were less than half those of 1964. Canadian supplies of flaxseed for 1965-66 total about 34 million, nearly 10 million above the 5-year average.

NOTE: Data on stocks, production and seed usage from Crop Reporting Board;: imports, exports, quantity milled or processed from Census Bureau; and alcohol usage from Internal Revenue Service. Production and stocks for 1964-65 are preliminary. July-September 1965 data are partly estimated. Since the statistics are preliminary and subject to revision and represent data reported by several independent sources, no attempt is made to force a balance between supply and reported disappearance.

WHEAT PRICES HIGHER - CORN LOWER

Cash grain markets were featured by higher wheat prices and lower corn prices for the week ended October 28. Oats and barley also sold at higher levels but other grains closed about unchanged from a week ago.

Winter wheat advanced 2-3¢ per bushel mainly reflecting improved export interest and a good domestic demand. Shorter supplies as confirmed by the October 1 stocks report, producer holding, and light offerings were also strengthening factors. Canadian sales of wheat to Red China also bolstered the market. Spring wheat gained 2-3¢ with buyers quite aggressive while offerings were limited by rail car shortages and a strong holding tendency by growers. Durum was steady at the top end of the range but was a little stronger on the lower end. White wheat gained 2¢ in the Pacific Northwest as exporters were looking for wheat for past commitments and farmers were reluctant sellers. Rye was off 2¢ most of the week as mill buyers were indifferent to light offerings but prices advanced on the last day and closed unchanged.

Corn declined 1-7¢ per bushel as the record crop began to move to market. Receipts mainly by truck were light and farmers were busily engaged in harvesting. Demand was limited to short-term needs. Harvesting weather improved over much of the corn belt. Oats were unchanged to 1¢ higher with fair demand for light receipts. Malting barley advanced 3-6¢ for the choice grades with improved demand, while feeding grades held steady. Grain sorghum prices were unchanged with a steady demand for moderately heavy offerings.

Soybean prices held fairly steady during the week and closed about unchanged. Demand kept pace with the larger marketings with expanding needs by both crushers and exporters. Harvesting continued to lag behind last year. Flaxseed strengthened early in the week but closed unchanged as interest slackened at the end of the week.

SOYBEAN SUPPLIES ... on October 1 for export, crushings or carryover totaled 806 million bushels on the basis of the October 1 production estimate after deducting one month's disappearance. If realized this would be 133 million more than a year earlier and well above any other season. Due to poor harvesting weather, crushings during September at 30 million were smaller than the three previous years for September. Exports totaled less than 5 million during September - less than half those of September 1964.

WHEAT AND FLOUR EXPORTS ... totaled around 274 million bushels, July through October, on the basis of Census data for three months and inspections for export for October. This is 30 million more than in the same period a year ago. Corn exports last season, October through September, totaled a record 550 million bushels as against 477 million the previous year. Preliminary indications are that October corn exports may be slightly less than the 43 million exported in September or the 44 million exported in October 1964. Soybean exports dropped sharply in September due to the late harvest but the October total may be close to the 29 million exported in October 1964. Grain sorghum exports last season were a record 148 million bushels -- 42 million above the previous season.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

Volume 13 No. 44 Hyattsville, Maryland 20781 November 5, 1965

CASH GRAIN MARKETS MIXED

Cash grain markets showed a generally stronger trend during the week ended November 4. Spring wheat, corn and grain sorghum ruled the exception and closed unchanged or lower.

Winter wheat markets were generally 1-3¢ higher and soft red winter gained 2-6¢. Export interest was the dominating factor in the strength but millers were ready buyers of better milling grades. Spring wheat closed about unchanged while durum went down 5¢ on the low side of the range. Demand was fairly strong, particularly for wheat having good milling qualities and high protein. New bakery business was slow. Potential foreign sales and a short world crop held white wheat prices firm at Portland. Rye prices were up fractionally in Minneapoli

The cash corn markets closed mixed with prices ranging from 2¢ higher to 5¢ lower. Despite increased receipts, reflecting the harvest season, prices advanced at some markets influenced by a good export interest and short terminal stocks. Oats were unchanged to 1¢ higher as feed mixer's demand was fair. Demand for malting barley was good for better quality offerings but interest in ordinary and feeding grades eased off somewhat. Grain sorghum, reacting to harvest pressure, closed unchanged to 3¢ lower. Harvest was nearing completion in Nebraska.

Soybean prices fluctuated narrowly during the week but closed unchanged to a penny higher. Most bids shifted from prompt and favored delayed shipment. There was a noticeable decrease in the arrival of high-moisture soybeans. Strong meal prices and export interest were props in the market. Flaxseed held steady in quiet trading.

MINIMUM CCC SALES PRICE FOR SOYBEANS ... acquired under the 1965 price support program will be the same as that in previous years. The actual sales price by the Commodity Credit Corporation for any soybeans acquired under the 1965 program will be the higher of the market price or the minimum sales price, but CCC reserves the right to reject any offer for soybeans at any time. The minimum price is the county support rate for the 1965 crop No. 2 grade soybeans plus 19¢ per bushel. This policy will be in effect until September 30, 1966.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

WHEAT PRICES LOWER - OTHER GRAINS ABOUT UNCHANGED

Cash grain markets were featured by generally lower wheat prices during the shortened week ended November 10, while other grains were about unchanged. Crop prospects for corn, grain sorghum and soybeans declined slightly during October according to the Crop Reporting Board.

Hard winter wheat prices were mostly 2¢ lower due to some slackening in trading. Soft red winter prices held steady in a dull market. Mill interest was slow although export demand provided a broad outlet for spot offerings. Spring wheat declined 2-3¢ due in part to lack of export demand. Trading in flour was dull. Durum offerings were large enough to weaken the market with ordinary grades down 5¢ at the close. White wheat advanced 1¢ in the Pacific Northwest behind a good export demand. Rye dropped 3¢ in a slow market with little offered.

Corn was mostly unchanged to a penny higher with farmers busy harvesting the record crop now estimated at 4,128 million bushels -- 16 percent above last year. Movement to market was not heavy. Exports continue to be a major supporting factor. Oats were up fractionally with a good demand for small supplies. Light offerings of barley found demand strong with malting grades up as much as 4¢ at Minneapolis. Grain sorghum prices were about unchanged. Marketing remained limited despite good harvesting weather.

Soybeans were unchanged to 1¢ higher with harvesting of the record crop lagging behind last year. Strength in oil and meal helped the market while exports continued at a high level. Flaxseed was unchanged at Minneapolis with a fair movement.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

Based on weekly reports of inspections for export by licensed grain inspectors and does not include rail or truck movement to Canada or Mexico. In some cases, the ultimate destination of the grain exported is not shown on the inspection reports. Therefore, the quantity for each country may vary from official Census data which are based on custom declarations.

HARD WINTER WHEAT LOWER - OTHER GRAINS UNCHANGED TO HIGHER

Spring wheat and soybeans advanced sharply during the week ended November 18, while most other grains made only minor gains. Hard winter wheat and flaxseed were the exceptions and closed below a week ago.

Hard winter wheat declined 2-3¢ per bushel due in part to larger receipts and a more limited demand. Mill interest was slow but export inquiry picked up with the lower prices. Soft red winter wheat was steady as offerings continued light. Spring wheat advanced 5¢ per bushel with a good demand for smaller receipts. The poorer quality of arrivals strengthened demand for No. 1 wheat. Durum also gained 5¢ in dull trading. White wheat closed 2¢ lower in the Pacific Northwest despite heavy export purchases and slow country selling. Rye gained a penny in light trading as the market borrowed strength from the advance in spring wheat.

Corn prices advanced fractionally to as much as 3¢ per bushel with continued good demand for larger receipts. Both terminal elevators and processors were active bidders while the export interest remained strong. Movement by truck was heavy as shortage of box cars hampered rail shipments. Oats gained a penny with a somewhat improved demand for small arrivals. Barley advanced 1-2¢ with malsters actively seeking supplies. There was a good export interest in the Pacific Northwest. Grain sorghum prices held steady despite rather heavy offerings. Box car shortages continue to hamper movement.

Soybeans advanced 5-8¢ per bushel reflecting mainly the smaller offerings. Export demand and movement continued heavy while processors were aggressive buyers. While soybean meal prices have declined below the high level of two weeks ago, the demand for oil has kept prices at a point where margins remain favorable. Flaxseed declined 2¢ in a somewhat easier market.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

SPRING WHEAT SHARPLY LOWER

Spring wheat declined sharply during the holiday-shortened week ended November 24, partly, in reaction to last week's gain. Most other grains were unchanged to lower with the exception of barley which advanced slightly.

Winter wheat declined 1¢ per bushel despite a continued demand by mill and export interests. Receipts were moderate by both truck and rail but farm selling remained light. Spring wheat dropped 8¢ at Minneapolis. There was considerable export news and fair trading reported but new flour business was slow. Tuesday, the Department announced that 13% protein or better hard winter and 15% protein or better hard spring wheat would be sold by CCC for unrestricted use. Demand for good quality durum remained strong with light offerings. Exporters were active buyers. White wheat was steady in the Pacific Northwest with somewhat less active export buying. Rye was off a penny reflecting slow flour trade and disappointing exports.

Corn prices were unchanged to 1¢ lower in the face of continued heavy receipts from the record crop. Exports remained at record levels while commercial trading was active. Oats held about steady with fair demand for light offerings. Barley was unchanged to 2¢ higher with a strong export demand and rather limited supplies. Grain sorghum prices held at last week's level with a fair demand for moderate receipts.

Soybeans traded in a narrow range with prices about a penny below last week. Large exports and a continued holding policy by growers kept the market mostly firm. Soybean crushings during October at 44.1 million bushels were sharply above September but a little below October 1964. Flaxseed was steady in a slow market.

1/ The export payment rate for wheat on November 24, was 47¢ per bushel for spring wheat from Duluth, 49¢ for soft red winter from Baltimore, 50¢ for hard winter from the Gulf, and 29¢ for white wheat from the West Coast. To compute indicated net price to foregin buyer, add 30¢ (export certificate) to above price and subtract appropriate export payment rate.

Cash grain closing prices, f.o.b. track, compared with loan rates at principal terminals
All prices rounded to nearest cent per bushel except grain sorghum per cwt.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

CORN AND SOYBEANS SHARPLY HIGHER

Corn, spring wheat and soybeans turned sharply higher during the week ended December 2. Most other grains ended the trading period stronger than the previous week.

Winter wheat markets closed 1-2¢ per bushel higher as producer selling continued slow. Export trading remained active. Millers were exerting strong demand for top quality wheats but some offerings with excess moisture found buyers hesitant. Spring wheat went up 7-8¢ reflecting an advance in the basic December price which had declined sharply a week earlier. Grindings continued at a heavy pace. Durum held steady for the better grades but high-moisture grains were discounted heavily. Soft white wheat eased off about a penny in the Pacific Northwest as new business failed to materialize. Rye advanced 3¢ per bushel in Minneapolis.

Cash corn markets turned stronger reflecting heavy exports and a good domestic miller demand. A decrease in receipts was noted at some markets. Wet weather hampered harvest in several areas but picking is nearing clean-up stage. Oats were unchanged to 3¢ higher as feed demand picked up. Barley closed mixed. Price declines of 4¢ per bushel were noted in Minneapolis in a slow market but advanced mostly 2¢ on the West Coast. Demand for grain sorghum was somewhat easier and prices were unchanged to a penny higher.

Considerable strength in soybean product markets pushed the value for cash soybeans up 8-9¢ per bushel. A holding tendency on the part of growers continued to exert pressures on available supplies. Large exports kept terminal supplies from building up. Flaxseed held steady in a slow market.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

WEEKLY SUMMARY AND STATISTICS

olume 13 No. 49 Hyattsville, Maryland 20782 December 10, 1965

MOST GRAIN MARKETS HIGHER - SPRING WHEAT LOWER

Cash grain markets were slow during the early part of the week ended December 9 but closed on a strong tone. This reflected the announcement that large shipments of wheat and other grains would be rushed to India to help alleviate a massive famine. Spring wheat declined after last week's sharp advance.

Winter wheat prices advanced on Thursday after a week of dull trading. Authorization to move 1-1/2 million tons of food grains, mostly wheat, to India boosted export demand. Mill interest continued good with some improvement over recent weeks. Farm selling remained light. The 1966 wheat crop was reported in good condition over most of the area. Spring wheat declined 3-5¢ and durum dropped 2-10¢ per bushel. Flour business was restricted while semolina sales were slow. The end of the shipping season at the Lakes was also a weakening factor in the market. White wheat went up 2¢ on the West Coast due in part to the limited offerings from farmers and country elevators. Rye advanced 2¢ at Minneapolis reflecting limited offerings.

Corn, backed by a good export and domestic demand, advanced 1-3¢ per bushel. Major terminal stocks remained well below the level of a year ago. The effect of the record crop was largely offset by record exports during the past month with future outlook on the bright side. Oats were unchanged to 2¢ higher with a good demand for the small offerings. Malting barley eased slightly at Minneapolis with the decline mostly for the better kinds. West Coast barley held steady. Grain sorghum prices advanced 2¢ per cwt. under improved demand while offerings were limited.

Soybean markets continued active with prices mostly a penny above a week ago. Exports during November hit a record of over 40 million bushels. Processor margins continue favorable. Flaxseed held steady in light trading.

GRAIN EXPORTS ... totaled a record 202 million bushels during November on the basis of inspections for export. November corn exports totaled a whopping 78 million -- 10 million more than the previous record. Exports of corn from the Gulf totaled 37 million bushels with 15 million of this from New Orleans and 10 million from Destrehan. Exporters moved over 27 million bushels of corn from the Lake ports during November, partly to beat the deadline on closing for the winter season. Exports of corn from Atlantic ports hit a high of 14 million with Baltimore, Norfolk and Philadelphia sharing about equally in the total. A record of 41 million bushels of soybeans was inspected for export during November with nearly two-thirds moving from the Gulf ports. The Lake and Atlantic ports each exported around 7 million bushels. Wheat exports dropped behind earlier months - totaling 54 million compared with over 60 million each month since February. Exports of all grains, January through November totaled 1,577 million bushels compared with 1,482 million the same months last year and 1,263 million in 1963. Corn exports for the eleven months totaled 536 million as against 433 million for 1964. Over 200 million bushels of soybeans were exported January-November this year - 15 million more than in 1964. Wheat exports, grain only, at 606 million were nearly 90 million below 1964. (Details page 11).

CANADIAN WHEAT EXPORTS ... totaled around 235 million bushels August through November on the basis of official data through October and overseas clearances for November. This is 68 million more than the same months of 1964 and 25 million more than the previous record of 1963. Heavy purchases by the Soviet Union and China are responsible for the record exports this year and in 1963.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

Volume 13 No. 50 Hyattsville, Maryland 20782 December 17, 1965

WINTER WHEAT AND SOYBEANS LOWER

Cash grain markets were moderately active and closed with mixed price changes for the week ending December 16. Winter wheat, rye and soybeans finished on the low side while corn and other feed grains advanced.

Winter wheat prices closed mostly 2-4¢ per bushel lower despite recent large purchases of wheat by India. Domestic buying was slow while country selling picked up somewhat. Spring wheat and durum held the price level of a week earlier. Recent announcement that CCC would sell all qualities of wheat was offset by increased orders for export to grain-deficient countries. White wheat climbed to a new season high during the week in Portland reflecting an increased foreign demand. Rye went down 1-2¢ per bushel in a slow market at Minneapolis.

Corn markets showed general strength with prices 1-3¢ per bushel higher. Exports continued quite heavy. Oats showed little change while barley prices improved slightly reflecting light receipts. Grain sorghum advanced 1-3¢ per cwt.

Soybeans fluctuated widely during the week but closed 1-2¢ per bushel lower. Weakness stemmed in part from lower meal and oil prices. Flaxseed prices held at last week's level.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.

Soybean prices compared with market value of soybean oil and meal

	Unit of value	November 1965	October 1965	September 1965	November 1964
Soybean Oil:
Average price at crushing plant	Cents per lb.	11.1	11.4	11.6	12.0
Value from bushel of soybeans 1/	Dollars	1.22	1.25	1.28	1.32
Soybean Meal 44%:
Bulk price at Decatur	Dollars per ton	75.70	70.80	76.80	66.10
Value from bushel of soybeans 1/	Dollars	1.82	1.70	1.84	1.59
Value of oil and meal from bushel of soybeans 1/	Dollars	3.04	2.95	3.12	2.91
Market price of No. 1 yellow soybeans at Illinois Points	Dollars per bu.	2.49	2.38	2.61	2.74
Spread between soybean price and value of oil and meal	Cents	55	57	51	17

1/ Based on assumption that a bushel of soybeans yields 11.0 pounds of oil and 48.0 pounds of meal for crop-year 1963-64.

NOTE: This table is for statistical comparison only. It does not reflect actual operating margins since prices are simple averages and do not take into account location differentials or actual purchases and sales of soybeans, soybean oil or soybean meal.

WHEAT AND SOYBEANS WEAKEN - OTHER GRAINS FIRM

Cash grain markets were featured by slightly lower wheat and soybean prices for the holiday period ending December 29. Other grains were mostly unchanged with trading seasonally moderate.

Winter wheat declined 1-3¢ per bushel reflecting increased offerings. Mill demand remained light. Exporters provided a good outlet although some were holding off due to the higher prices. The 1966 winter wheat crop was forecast at 1,059 million bushels as against 1,024 million produced in 1965. Spring wheat was unchanged to a penny lower. The flour market was about dormant but world food shortages provided some support to the market. Top quality durum closed 3¢ lower in slow trading. White wheat reached the season's high in the Pacific Northwest due to heavy purchases by India but declined after the sale. Rye closed fractionally higher in extremely light trading.

Corn markets continued firm reflecting good export movement. Over 176 million bushels were inspected for export October 1 through December 25 -- an increase of 40 million over the same period last year. Country offerings from the record crop continue light. Oats were firm as receipts were small and demand only moderate. Barley market was unchanged at Minneapolis but firmed up slightly at Portland reflecting renewed export interest. Grain sorghum prices were unchanged but offerings were heavier at Ft. Worth with demand moderate.

Soybeans finished 1-2¢ lower with reports of expanded country selling in parts of Minnesota and Iowa. Supplies were adequate for most needs although exports continue at record levels. Processor margins were less favorable in December than earlier in the season. Flaxseed held steady at Minneapolis in light trading.

1/ Effective price support loan rate is the established terminal loan rate minus a deduction for storage as of the date shown. Terminal loan rates are not established for corn, oats, or soybeans at any market or for wheat and grain sorghum at Ft. Worth. However, Galveston loan rates are used for Ft. Worth since cash prices at Ft. Worth usually are backed by paid-in freight to Galveston.

2/ Simple average of daily closing prices.

3/ Non-transit from the East.
